Dear Sir/Madam,

It has come to our notice that fake job offer letters are being circulated using the school's name, logo, stamp, forged signature of the Principal, fake email IDs, and fake phone numbers.

Please note that these letters and related communications are fraudulent and have not been issued by the school. Any official vacancy notifications or recruitment communication from the school are always published only through the official school website or authorized communication channels.

You are advised not to respond to such fake or suspicious emails, phone calls, or offer letters and to verify with the school office before taking any action.
